

The double diploma Freiburg- Nancy

A student's perspective

The partner Universities

- the French Institute of Forestry, Agricultural and Environmental Engineering in Nancy
(ENGREF)

and

- the Faculty of Forest and Environmental Sciences in Freiburg
(Albert-Ludwigs-Universität)
- equivalences between courses

General Presentation

- a bi-national study course
- begin of the studies in the home country - end at the partner university ➔ with the two diplomas
- Studies in the country's language
- patronage of the German-French University of Saarbrücken

“Professional” benefits

- language skills, especially in the professional vocabulary
- Other specialised orientations
- opportunities for traineeships
- Chances on the job market: in French and German speaking countries
- international orientation, international career

A cultural experience

in many ways:

- Living in another country
- Intercultural skills
- Two different systems (university/engineering school)

Some negative aspects...

- Two different systems of teaching!
= sometimes a difficult adaptation...
- Less transparency in the possibilities
- Lack of preparation
- technical difficulties, organization problems

perspective for the Future?

- Interest of those kinds of partnership for the Universities?
- Attractiveness for international Master students
